Red Nose Day

Thank you to everyone that donated and for making the effort to dress in something red. By not selling red noses this year, we are actively supporting the effort to cut down on plastic. Today we raised £83 and there are still a few children to donate.

Make a difference - Wear a Hat to School Day

Friday 5th April, we are holding Wear-A-hat day in school to raise money and awareness for the Brain Tumour Cancer charity. Brain tumours kill more children and adults under 40 than any other cancer, yet only receive 1% government funding. This is something that a member of staff has been affected by. We are asking that all children come to school wearing any hat of their choice (the wackier the better!) Please can all children taking part please bring in as much as you can spare, a £1.00 minimum donation on this day. Thank you.

Achievements

Little Gems- Jeronn for being much happier doing his work. Well done Jeronn 😊

Well done to everyone in Opal 😊

World Book Day, last Thursday, 7th March

Thank you for your fantastic efforts in dressing your children as book characters, they all looked fantastic. We had a themed morning supervised by staff, stories were read aloud to the children and in some activities a DVD was shown. The children could choose two activities. The activities were:

Paddington Bear – where they made marmalade cake sandwiches.

Harry Potter – the children made a wand and all together said a spell that made a white feather rise.

Sheep Pig – the children decorated stones with animal drawings.

Elmer – created a picture by sticking coloured paper onto a pre-drawn elephant.

Stickman – children designed and made their own stickman, some were even dressed.

Murder most unlady like - where the children were detectives solving the hidden clues to find the stolen treasure which had been taken from the museum.

We have posted a lot of the photographs on Parenthub for you to view, please take a look.

Other News:

Fitzharrys School is hosting the finale of this year's ATOM Science Festival with a show that should really appeal to Primary School children and parents.

Alom Shaha is presenting a show called "Being your child's first science teacher" on Wednesday 27th at 7pm.

Natural History Festival

We have been asked to inform parents of the Festival of Natural History, Classics, Art and More on Wednesday 27th March, 2019, 3.30 - 6pm at Cheney School as it continues the process of becoming the first Arts Council Accredited museum in a state school. There will be five main discovery zones: Natural History, Art, Classics and Archaeology, Storytelling and Anthropology. There will be live shows as well as a cafe serving themed refreshments.

A full brochure is available to view at http://rumblemuseum.org.uk/images/WhatsOn/1902-25_FullBrochure_WithoutBleed.pdf - there will be a number of stalls and organisations not featured in the brochure who will also be there on the day.

Please note there is an important letter attached from the Governing Body.

Enjoy the weekend
